

INCHAINS REPORT

The final round of the series at Northchapel turned out to be a good end to the Evo Championship. After heavy rain during the night, come race day it was a nice sunny day, drying the track out for perfect racing conditions. The first two races were won by Ross Sturmeay and Fred Heath taking the third race. There were good riding from young David Roberts in race two and Gary Henson securing his second place in the 250cc class. Further down the race order things were getting close for the conclusion of the 125cc class, but Gary Benham held his nerve to claim the series from Mike Popperwell and Vince Crawley.

Thanks go to Kevin and Jill for all the hard work they have put in over the year.
